Champions Hand Local Team Worst Drubbing of Season

Ray Caldwell Turns Back Former Teammates With Ease; Frank Baker Pounds Out His First Home Run of Year; Score Is 14 to 4

By Charles A. Taylor

It was a sorry exhibition the Yankees gave yesterday afternoon at the Polo Grounds. With first place ready to welcome them with open arms, the Hugmen played so miserably that they received the worst trouncing of the season, the world's champion Indians winning by a score of 14 to 4. To make the sting of defeat the more stinging, it was Ray Caldwell, former Yankee, who pitched so consistently well for the visitors that the chances of the home boys to battle through to victory were few and far between.

Midget Manager Huggins used up four twirlers and inserted pinch hitters and substitutes galore in a fruitless effort to make a ball game out of a one-sided farce. The moundmen who answered the call of the Midget were Jack Quinn, Alex. Ferguson, Rip Collins and Tom Sheehan. Quinn started the game, only to be removed before the first irning ended in favor of Ferguson. Collins was summoned in the fifth and lasted long enough to make matters werse before being relieved by Shehan. The latter did fairly well, but the game was already in Tris Speakers's hip pocket when Tommy opened his store of curves.

If the home run score of the day had been the deciding factor the Yanks would have carried the contest into extra innings, for Frank Baker and Wallie Pipp hit circuit blows for our side and Joe Sewell and Tris Speaker returned the compliment for the Indians. The home run of the ex-Home Run King Baker deserves special notice, for it was his first of the season. Furthermore, Bake picked out a time when two men were on base to join the new "Lively Ball Home Run Kinge Run King Baker deserves packed out a time when two men were on base to join the new "Lively Ball Home Run Kinge Run Kingel Run Kin

It is necessary to mention only two innings to give an indication of how tempestuous the world's champs were. In the opening chapter four runs were accumulated by them so quickly that Jack Quinn was in a daze when Huggins prescribed a shower bath.

Jamieson, the first Indian, was an easy out, pitcher to first, but Consonant Wambsganss doubled to left and Manager Speaker scored Wamby with a single in the same general direction. Elmer Smith walked and Gardner singled to left, tallying his leader, Joe Sewell banged the ball to right for a long safety, which brought both Smith and Gardner over the rubber. That was the end of Quinn. Ferguson checked the onslaught.

In the third inning the Indians added two more runs, a triple by Gardner and the homer of Sewell being the medium. But in the fifth it was a crime the way these mid-West for eigners conducted themselves. Gardner found Collins, the new Yankee pitcher, for a single, and Sewell walked. Burns singled and Meusel fumbled, Gardner counting. Meusel them made a double error by throwing wildly to the infield. Sewell scoring and Burns reaching third. Nunamaker hit safely to center and took second on Ruth's fumble. Burns registering. Caldwell walked and Jamieson bunted safely, filling the bases.
